- Proven time savings for staff
- Comprehensive Business Intelligence reporting

Are you wasting too much time doing orders?

A key practical function of the software is its availability to generate pre-scheduled orders on a set basis, with order quantities determined based on a forecast, improving productivity and efficiencies.

Finding it hard to keep up with order constraints?

The core benefits of the software stem from sophisticated algorithms that take into consideration both the stock weight and cost-effectiveness of the order, based on variables including:

- Range deals
- Individual deals
- Order cut-off times

- Preferred wholesalers
- Minimum spend
- Number of orders

- Order channels
- Direct suppliers
- Sales forecasts

Automated ordering

Buy-IT-Right has the ability to create several types of orders that are automatically generated to match each vendor's method of receiving orders, such as:

• Turnover Orders

• Email Orders

• PharmX Orders

Integrated solution

Buy-IT-Right integrates with existing and proven retail platforms, delivering a coordinated approach to your inventory management from start to finish.

Helping you make informed business decisions with reporting and insights.

Buy-IT-Right allows you to closely observe your business performance through detailed reports, which in turn assists you in making informed decisions based on your own data.
